DESCRIPTION
This CME is devoted to major aspects of Palliative Care. Although most physicians are not directly involved in such treatment, many will have patients who enter this process. In addition, doctors treat patients whose family members are receiving palliation. Topics presented will increase knowledge and understanding among attendees of opioid adjuncts, pharmacist and physician assistant involvement, spiritual and psychological concerns, and the role of palliative care physicians. There will be a summary of the 2016 CDC Guidelines for Prescribing Opioids for Chronic Pain. Cases will be presented.

OBJECTIVE
Upon completion of this program, participants should be able to:
• Identify benefits of opioids in chronic non-cancer pain.
• Describe toxicity from high-dose opioid dosage.
• Identify separate psychological needs of patients and their caregivers.
• Understand the role of psychology in palliative care for patients and caregivers.
• Describe the role of pharmacist in palliative care setting.
• Recognize the role of pharmacist in parenteral nutrition.
• Review benefits and barriers to utilization of physician assistants in palliative care.
• Recognize importance of identifying and meeting patient/family goals & assisting them in achieving reasonable objectives.
• Understand and employ awareness and sensitivity to multicultural norms and practices in bereavement.
• Describe symptom relief for patients with serious illness and state of Palliative Care 2016.
