

We Said Yes to PCOM!

As the outgoing Chair of The Fund for PCOM I welcome our new chairs for 2011, Steve Blasi, DO '02 and William Craver, DO '87. I thank all of you who contributed last year and hope you will join us in giving back to your College this year. I remain committed to our alma mater and am honored to serve as Chair of the Development Committee for the PCOM Board of Trustees to help bring the College to new levels in philanthropic support.

– Steven Blake, DO '89, MSC
PCOM Board of Trustees
Chair, Development Committee

“I owe my career to PCOM because the didactic lectures gave me a solid foundation and my clinical education helped to prepare me for the real world of internship and residency.”

– Steven Blasi, DO '02

“Following my surgical residency, I wanted to do more for and with PCOM by joining the faculty...I now have the great opportunity as the Associate Dean of PCOM – Georgia Campus to build a strong clinical training program here in the southeast.”

– William Craver, DO '87, FACOS

Visit our secure Web site at www.fund.4.pcom.edu to make your gift.

800-739-3939 • 215-871-6120 • alumni@pcom.edu

Embracing Tradition • Forging the Future

The PCOM Advantage

Make your gift today.

Embracing Tradition

Since it's founding, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine has been committed to high-quality instruction and practice. Embracing time-honored values used by instructors like Robert Meals, DO '56 and Vincent Cipolla, DO '46, today's faculty impart traditional applications using the latest technology.

Dr. Meals

Forging the Future

PCOM continues to attract highly-qualified students to meet the challenges of the American healthcare delivery system by offering a wide-range of academic programs and services that provide students, with:

Dr. Cipolla

The PCOM Advantage

- Clinical Learning and Assessment Centers and Simulation Suites
- New Healthcare Center on City Avenue to achieve a Patient-Centered Medical Home for our community
- Robust digital library collection available anytime, anywhere
- A growing and interactive research program
- Core clinical campuses with locations throughout Pennsylvania and the southeast

Say Yes...

"The Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine has given you the opportunity not only to contribute to the welfare of our nation but to provide for your needs. A graduate owes a debt to his college for its contribution to his life."

– Dr. Thomas Rowland, Past President of PCOM

"At PCOM, we're living the dream every day! The PCOM community is a multi-generation family. Each generation strives to provide for the next generation. Inclusion in the PCOM family is a forever gift, not a transient membership."

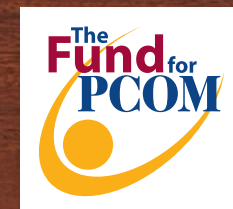

– John Dabdah (DO '13), Co-Class Chair

Do you remember the excitement of receiving your acceptance letter from PCOM?

Yes! From a multitude of applications, PCOM chose you.

Your dream to be a physician began at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Now it's your chance to say YES to The Fund for PCOM!

By giving back to PCOM, you help your college to continue as the leading osteopathic medical institution in the nation.

The Fund for PCOM provides a critical and flexible stream of dollars to develop and enhance our academic programs and services – The PCOM Advantage.

ON THE COVER (clockwise from top left): Oliver Bullock, DO '78, PCOM Healthcare Center – Cambria Division; Robert Meals, DO '56, former Chair, Department of Radiology; Vincent T. Cipolla, DO '46, Anatomy; Susan Peck, DO '79, Obstetrics and Gynecology; Charlotte Greene, PhD, Neurology, Physiology and Pharmacology; Dr. Thomas Rowland, Past President of PCOM.

