

SUPERMOON

Someone tell the moon not to move as I lay under its bold and bright light

Someone tell the moon not to move as it fills me with its lessons of life

Someone tell the moon not to move as it is the greatest lover of my dreams

Someone tell the moon not to move as it sings me softly gently to sleep

Someone tell the moon not to move as I learn how its colorless body gives colorful birth to the night

as it whispers telling me that it will all be alright someone tell the moon not to move

someone tell the moon not to move

not to
move

for under it I feel I have lived a thousand beautiful lives
